Time: 11:00am – 17:00pm

Venue: Reichstag Building/German Parliament, Platz der Republic 1, 11011 Berlin

Theme: Planting Souls

Let's keep walking is the answer for the question that I asked myself last year, which was where are we going from here?

We are continuing with their Walk of Death as foreigners with thousand faces and the descendants of Afrakans who liberated western/European countries from fascism. We raised our Afrakan Colonial Soldiers of World War I & II from the dead. In the wake of our Afrakan ritual (Raise the Dead), I could read coded messages from the sky clearly and hear their voices whispering everywhere around me.

Therefore, we walked with them to the Commonwealth war graves/Berlin 1939-1945 war cemetery as an honour of our Afrakan fallen soldiers of World Wars. Their names are nowhere to be found on each tombstone in the World War grave yards in Berlin. They don't demand any unnecessary lionizing but to be commemorated annually as great Afrakans who contributed to ending both world wars with their souls.

Join us on the following above date and please wear all white during our seven hours symbolism of peace.
